Icon Painting Course with Dr Irina Bradley

Monday 21 to Friday 25 May
Cost: £400 per participant, payable in advance.

This course will introduce students to fluid egg tempera techniques with the aim of finishing a small icon depicting St Frideswide of Oxford in Russo-Byzantine style to take home. The course is organised in conjunction with the exhibition Icons: The Symphony of Divine Light which features icons ‘written’ by course leader, Dr Irina Bradley.

Dr Irina Bradley is a visiting tutor for icon painting at the Prince’s School of Traditional Arts in London, where she teaches at MA level. Her work is on display in churches, places of private worship and collections worldwide. See www.irinabradley.com.

Please note: this course takes place in the Art Room which is on the second floor of the Old Library. We regret that there is no lift.

For more information and to book a place, contact jacqueline.holderness@chch.ox.ac.uk or 01865 286003.